

Hey! My name is Caitlyn.
I am 24 years old, and living in Bendigo.

Working as a support worker has be incredibly rewarding as I get to make a positive impact on the lives of the participants and it is such a fulfilling experience for me.
I worked for people with dementia for almost a year before working at One-care and in doing so, I have developed excellent communication and interpersonal skills.

I have a young niece that has some sensor problems and she finds it difficult coping in a busy environment and loud noise. I like to assist her by taking her out in the morning when the street is yet too busy so as she can experience going to the park.
This has lead me to wanting to be the best support worker I can be with the young participants I now enjoy working with.

When i am not working I enjoy shopping, reading and watching movies.
